FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

New keyboarding class on tap this fall

APPLETON - Musikgarten begins its fall session with a new keyboarding class for children ages 6-9.

The class focuses on singing, dancing, tonal patterns, rhythm patterns and application of patterns through aural training to the keyboard.

Musikgarten, which is sponsored by The Arthur Krempin School of Music & Art, begins its 12-week session Oct. 7. Classes are held in Room 220 at First English Lutheran Church-Downtown Site, 326 E. North St.

The program is a great way for parents to bond and communicate with their children.

"Music is a great avenue for children to develop social, emotional, cognitive and motor skills," said Traci Diehl, Musikgarten instructor. "Classes consist of musical explorations through bouncing, rocking, musical patterns, body awareness activities, dances and instrument playing. The activities used in the classes address development of the whole child."

New parent orientation is at 6 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 29, in Room 221 at FELC-Downtown Site.

For fee information or to register, visit www.felc.com, follow the "Youth Programs" link and scroll to the Musikgarten section or call Traci Diehl at 920-757-6176.
