

First English Lutheran Church (FELC)

Social Media Statement

First English Lutheran Church (FELC) respects the rights and privacy of its employees, ministry teams, volunteers, and members in their personal use of social media. We also recognize that personal use of social media has the ability to affect our congregation, our reputation, and our overall church community. As members of our church community, we all have a responsibility to realize social media posts can be perceived as a reflection of our overall church community. Knowing that posts can be misunderstood, FELC would like to remind all employees, volunteers, and members of the church to be mindful of their social media posts ensuring they are respectful of all people.
